

About the company

Financial Force as the Cloud HR Company are a global provider of human capital software and service solutions built for today's social, mobile, and global workforce. Developed on the industry's leading cloud platform Force.com, Financial Force Human Capital Management delivers one complete and integrated human capital management solution for global organizations from hire to retire including the core human resource system of record, benefits & compensation, absence management, performance and talent management, career and succession planning, workforce collaboration, and workforce analytics.

Challenge Area

In race of providing an integrated HR solution, they were finding it difficult to cope up with diverse needs of the clients and accordingly arrange a solution. The problem is not that critical in comparison to the presence of so many solutions available which makes it more arduous to figure out. What they really wanted is, great products (need) based on easy-to-use technologies (implementation) that can simplify the complete functioning for any organization and turn the tables around.

Rchilli Contribution

Simplifying and re-organizing resume management, Rchilli offered a unique coherent resume parser which is capable of parsing resumes from anywhere i.e. old databases, desktop folders, email etc. Read all formats (doc, docx, pdf, rtx etc) and supports non English resumes (Euro pass, French, German, Chinese and many other) with minimal technological alterations in your existing system. These factors made the Financial Force's solution, first preference for all end-to-end HR solutions.

Overall Impact

Rchilli acted as a catalyst and accelerated Financial Force's growth for acquiring more new customers and retaining edge over the competitors. We always provide partners- in-growth preposition to our clients which makes us them the ideal choice for integrated HR solutions. As a result, Financial Force was able to monetize profits and generate value for the clients. The accuracy of information parsed, adequate pricing of the product and customer-friendly and knowledgeable staff were their strong reasons to recommend us. We take extreme delight in serving our customers parsing needs.
