

Next-Gen Applicant Tracking System by TALENTTAR.

Today, more than 50 percent of Companies irrespective of their workforce strength considers using a software for hiring. Talenttar is one among them who is consistently striving to make an impact in Recruitment Automation. Their latest offering with Applicant Tracking System comes with cloud backed technology, super-simple innovation and efficient workflows with a powerful parser to make the best CV stand out of your resume database.

The screenshot shows the Talenttar website homepage. The header features the Talenttar logo with a starburst graphic, contact information (+91 98945 62840 and info@talenttar.com), and a navigation menu (Home, About Us, Recruit, Campus, Pricing, Contact Us). The main headline reads "Source, Screen, Select & Manage your Talent Amazingly!". Below this, a paragraph describes the platform's capabilities: "Use our modern interface across wide range of platforms to manage your hiring seamlessly right from your desk, assess skills online and offer quickly. Our tools are built intelligently to process information, drive decisions and deliver great results saving tremendous cost, time and effort!". A prominent orange button labeled "GET IT NOW" is positioned to the right of the descriptive text.

Currently, hiring processes are disjointed and crippled with much-hyped technology that makes Recruiters job much difficult than making it easier in the first place. There is a huge dearth of an integrated solution which can be used both for sourcing and tracking. Company size should never be the criteria when it comes to tracking applicants and interviews.

Talenttar from the beginning focused on candidate experience that allowed them to explore CV Automation with agility and simplicity. The solution even allows them to explore Social Media channels to muster additional information about the candidates. Having a strong resume parser at the core enables quick searches for recruiters using keywords that can be matched with job requisitions. The system detects right matching CV's from the database as soon as job posting is live.

Rchilli's CV Automation includes resume parsing services in its core. The services can be accessed from anywhere in the world with internet and supports 35 plus languages, including europass formats. Talenttar makes it uber-easy for recruiters to search, match and apply for the right roles. Even same candidates keep coming to them for different openings. It happens due to the delight, applicants get, every time while applying.

Rchilli and Talenttar collaboration makes it real easy, to manage recruitment and get the best talent onboard first. Now, when talented applicants complete the form, the system first administers the info, send the communication, and collects the data matching to the role. With such a system in place, the manual intervention and data entry tasks turns to zero. The solution frees the Recruiter from spreadsheets nightmares and breaks the hiring into direct and intuitive pipeline -style stages. The solution even gives you the option to customize the workflows entirely as per your need.
