About Just Recruit

Just Recruit offers innovative, hassle-free, and pocket-friendly cloud recruitment software that helps the companies with a rapid and seamless onboarding, minus the setup costs. The software helps in fuss-free data migration that helps import data right from the spreadsheets or existing. It works by intelligently searching your database with ease, automatically matching the jobs with potential candidates by using customizable coding along with keyword text searching.

Just Recruit has created a built-in advanced post-code and address searching feature that'll never make the recruiters miss out on a candidate. And, vice-versa, with the clever client-focused searching feature, a candidate will never miss out on a job either.

Segment: Cloud Recruitment Software

Requirements

Just Recruit wanted a parsing functionality that is efficient and delivers the best results so that their clients don't waste time scrolling through CVs and resumes.

Solution

RChilli resume parser helped Just Recruit's customers create profiles from CVs and parse CVs in bulk while being financially viable, which was the primary concern. This saved their time and streamlined the processes.

Results

- Increased productivity for Just Recruit's customers
- Enhanced CRM functionality
- Higher client satisfaction rates

Why RChilli Resume Parser Stood Out for Just Recruit?

Picking What's Right Mattered

Just Recruit had been on the lookout for a parsing technology that could save their customer's valuable time that otherwise got wasted perusing through hundreds of resumes. Amongst the many options available, finding the right one was significant.

Just Recruit's recruitment platform was designed to facilitate a rapid and seamless onboarding process but they realized that their customers spent considerable time in manually parsing CVs/resumes, a process that was both time-consuming and prone to human error.

High cost parsing solutions were another challenge. Apart from selecting a resume parser that delivers the results, finding the one that perhaps didn't burn a hole in their pockets was equally important. After extensive online research and comparing the parsers offered by companies worldwide, RChilli's resume parser ticked all the boxes.
