How Kovasys Met RChilli?

At Kovasys, recruiters work on staffing needs. Every day, many candidates apply for jobs on their website. Recruiters had to spend hours uploading candidates' resumes to the ATS and getting candidate data such as name, city, company, etc. It was time-consuming, so recruiters had to spend their whole day manually entering candidate information into the ATS.

This is why Kovasys started looking for a resume parser so recruiters could stop wasting their time on manually entering resume data and speed up the data extraction process. Seeking efficiency, the company came across RChilli and loved its products and pricing structure. This is how the relationship started. It's been more than seven years of working together, and the relationship is getting stronger.

How RChilli Helped Kovasys?

RChilli's resume parser emerges as a pivotal solution for Kovasys. Once the candidates upload their resumes on Kovasys' website, the resume parser automatically extracts candidate data from the resumes and puts it in the ATS. It helped Kovasys streamline the hiring process as the solution delivered structured resume data.

It extracts the information in the required data fields such as skills, qualifications, experience, etc., helping recruiters find the perfect candidate for the job.
